

SEQUOIA FIRE PERIL PASSED

Install Awnings Now
for lasting comfort

At no time is the need for awnings so urgent as in September and October. These are often the hottest months, for summer heat and summer sun-glare reach to the furthest boundaries of autumn. In fact, awnings are a year round necessity in Southern California.

It doesn't pay to buy your much-needed awnings just for temporary shade, therefore. Homeowners and architects alike recommend Sunfeldt Awnings as the lasting investment—and the most economical. You get proven durability of materials, the most beautiful designs, and a warranty of satisfaction backed by a reputation of nearly 40 years standing. You will avoid early replacement by getting the best.

DEFERRED PAYMENTS

For just a few dollars down you can have your Swanfeldt Awnings installed at once. And you will hardly miss the small amounts of the monthly payments. Save time by telephoning today for a courteous Swanfeldt representative to call at your home with samples.

School · Bullock's

Can you remember your first school day? How dressed up you felt in your new school clothes! All ready to enter a different world weren't you, just as thousands of boys and girls will be this September 7, when the schools of Los Angeles re-open.

You can't help sensing the eagerness and excitement that the mere mention of school creates these days if you walk through the Boys' and Girls' Store at Bullock's.

"And the little red cap matches the trousers? How cute!" says the mother of a six-year-old looking at the new outfits in Bullock's Store for Boys. The suit she's exclaiming over has red flannel "shorts" buttoned on to a white blouse with big pearl buttons. The cap is an imported beret, the kind the "older fellows" are wearing in Hollywood, scaled down to fit the first grader.

In the next aisle are the flappers. Linen flappers! Cotton crash flappers! Devonshire flappers! Flappers with cotton top and wool trousers! Almost every fabric you can think of that would be suitable for a little boy's suit is here. You know flapper suits are a Bullock specialty.

But if Jack is interested in his new school clothes, you should see Jean. Saucy printed frocks beckon her to Bullock's Two-to-Six Shop. How she primps and poses in front of the mirror. She'd like the one with the tiny blue figures she thinks.

Or if she is big for her age, she goes to the Junior Girls' Sections, and, by the way, there are surely clever dresses here in the new group at $2.95 for today! Remember this is Saturday morning, which always means four hours of extra values at Bullock's.

Not only beginners, however, are interested in school clothes. Bullock's entire fifth floor is registering great school-buying activity in coats, suits, hats, dresses, underwear, shoes, for all school ages, the kindergartner to the collegienne.

And now you really must hear more about the new dresses at $2.95 for Saturday morning at Bullock's.

First of all, there are 200 of them in prints, or plain colors or plaids (some of them are shown in the sketch at the right).

Bloomer dresses in the 6 to 10 sizes. And smart dresses, too, for girls 10 to 14, featuring the two-piece effect and other new fall styles. At the Junior Girls' Section—Bullock's, until one o'clock today!

The "Paddy" girdle of dotted elastic should interest the collegienne. A new garment at Bullock's fourth floor corset section, $3.95.

Pretty patent pumps in new models Saturday for girls—$6.00.

And such clever Collegienne pumps in darker tones of blonde, $8.50.

Escaped Circus Elephants Find Canadian Wilderness Good Range

Apparently Much at Home in Their New Environment, two of the three elephants which escaped from a circus at Cranbrook, B.C., the 6th inst., are still at large in the northern wilderness. This exclusive photograph, the first to be published, shows the two huge pachyderms crossing a clearing in the woods.

A Bomb Set Off by a crank, robber or maniac—the police have not yet determined which—wrecked the interior of the Farmer's Deposit Bank of Pittsburg, Kan., killed the bomber and two special policemen. Twenty other persons were injured and many valuable papers were scattered in all directions. (P. & A. photo.)

Scores of Trophies Gathered in Interior South America by W. C. Porterfield, "Jone wolf" explorer of Los Angeles, have been presented to the Los Angeles Museum of Arts and Sciences by the adventurer. Many of the trophies were procured during a trip into the country dominated by the Girbaro or head hunter. Photo at left shows Girbaro killer with deadly blowgun. The others, in order, are Porterfield with a few of the trophies; Muriel Hawes, Cinderella Roof manikin, garbed in chief's feathered dress; the explorer with two cured human heads, and Miss Hawes with deadly Girbaro bow and arrow. (Times photos, courtesy W. C. Porterfield.)

A World Teacher and his sponsor, in the person of Jiddu Krishnamurti, young Hindoo, and Mrs. Annie Besant, head-of the Theosophist organization, are expected to come to California after the coming Theosophical congress in Chicago. Part of his message is to be delivered at that congress. (P. & A. photo.)

Crowds Flocked in such numbers to the bier of Rudolph Valentino that it was found necessary to close the doors of the funeral church where the dead picture actor lay in state. Some 45,000 persons passed the casket before further sightseeing was banned, and there was a heavy police guard to prevent disorder. (P. & A. photo.)

GOODYEAR PROSPECTS UP

Outlook for Stabilization Improves Position of Rubber Companies; Price Drop Nears End

By EARLE R. CROWE
Prospects for stabilization in the crude rubber market in the last half of the year, as reflected in the stock market activity in United States Rubber common, are of pertinent interest to the stockholder of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company of California. This company, like all of the rubber manufacturers, traversed a rocky road in the first six months of the year because of the inflation in crude rubber prices.

In the last few days United States Rubber common has been a popular vehicle for speculative operations, predicated on the reports of an upward trend in earnings for July and the first half of August. While this company's status in the market is partially influenced by the operations of its plantation subsidiary, the fundamental reason is the evidence of stabilization in the crude market. All of the companies have sustained losses from the liquidation of high cost inventories and from the difficulties of selling on a declining market.

Goodyear of California was naturally benefited from any improvement that materialized in the industry. Immediately after the company began operations here the depression in the rubber industry severely tested the ability of Goodyear to survive, but it was able this year to completely wipe out the deferred dividends to the stockholders. The company's earnings for the first half of the year were $1,000,000, as compared with $1,000,000 for the same period of last year. ## RAIL ISSUE BOOM FORECAST

Market Observers Predict Carrier Stocks to Make Substantial Gain in Near Future

Market Observers Predict Carrier Stocks to Make Substantial Gain in Near Future
By PAUL WILLARD GARRETT
Copyright, 1926, by New York Evening Post, Inc.
NEW YORK, Aug. 27. (Radioactive)—A revival of the old-fashioned railroad markets of two decades ago is in prospect within the next several months, in the opinion of several market observers. Those taking this view say the industrial shares as a group have reached their peak, but that favorable factors expected to take place in the near future that should stimulate the demand for railroad stocks include the prospect of larger earnings from crop movements in the agricultural districts of the West, further progress in merger negotiations, segregation of coal or oil properties and melon cutting.

Several of the more prosperous carriers probably will give consideration to stock dividends to capitalize improvements and to save their surplus. It is contended, so that they may earn the legal 6 per cent on the increased capitalization before being compelled to yield a part of their income to the government under the terms of the Transportation Act.

Moreover, as a result of the general improvement in railroads, prices of their stocks have advanced and the value of holdings of such companies as Union Pacific, for instance, has expanded greatly. After many years, therefore, the time appears to be approaching when rewards for stockholders in this group may be expected.

Most of the northwestern roads look for decidedly better business through the remainder of the year with bountiful crops to carry to market. If prices of grain improve, as some observers expect, yielding farmers a satisfactory return, the railroads will be called upon to carry back to rural sections the products from manufacturing centers.

Straightening out of the new Nickel Plate merger negotiations is expected to be accomplished this winter and other plans doubtless will come into the light when the Van Sweringen receive approval of their project from the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Segregation of the Delaware and Hudson's transportation properties from the present company will probably be approved at the stockholders' meeting in October. This may pave the way for similar developments in the case of other roads. The Lehigh Valley, for instance, still has to dispose of Cane Run, which is owned by the Delaware and Hudson. Baltimore and Ohio must dispose of its Reading "right" or the end of the year. Other roads hold valuable coal, timber or oil properties which are steadily mounting in value.

The possibility of stock dividends or offerings of additional stock to shareholders on favorable terms, giving holders rewards in the form of "rights" to purchase new shares at a considerable following from industrial shares to raise in the last week or two, commission-house observers insist.

REVIVAL OF OIL LIST FEATURES

Bullish Gasoline Surveys Spur to Buying

Bullish Gasoline Surveys Spur to Buying
Prices Point Up Generally in Day's Trading
Usual Week-end Offerings Well Absorbed
NEW YORK, Aug. 27. (AP)—Constructive forces were again at work in today's stock market, which was featured by a revival of strength and activity in the oil shares. West-end profit taking was less in the oil shares than in the rest of the market, but offerings were well absorbed, closing quotations disclosing a long list of advances. Business, however, was in reduced volume, total sales of $1,000,000, shares being smallest in about a month.

The day's business was largely in character with the week-end mercantile reviews reported further improvement in most lines of industry, although heavy rains over a widespread area have retarded fall buying in some lines. Reviews of the oil industry called attention to the fact that a record volume of gasoline was being handled at firm prices, no important reductions in the price of gasoline having been made this year. Last year several of the large refining companies cut prices in August, with the prevailing quotation then several cents a gallon below the current price.

Rails Gain
Rails made further response to the unusually favorable July earnings reports, the combined net income of the first forty class-one roads to report being nearly 30 per cent above that of July last year. Atchafalaya and Southern Railway established new high records for all time at 11 1/2 and 10 1/2, respectively, shares being up 1 1/2 and 1 1/4, respectively, against 1925. Buying of the oil shares derived some stimulus from the publication of the semiannual report of the American Petroleum and Transport Company, showing earnings of $1,000,000, a 10 per cent advance over the earnings of the same period of last year. The company's earnings for the first half of the year were $1,000,000, as compared with $1,000,000 for the same period of last year.

Bank Displays First Bale of Tulare Cotton
The first bale of cotton of the 1926 crop from Tulare county is on display in the lobby of the Citizens National Bank. The bale, weighing 50 pounds, was ginned on the 5th inst., by the Delta Farms Oil from cotton produced on the Newton J. Skinner ranch near Porterville.

Bank Displays First Bale of Tulare Cotton
The Citizens National Bank has been active in encouraging cotton culture in this section. Los Angeles is established as the natural center for the cotton producing industry. The cotton moves to market through the harbor, which is provided with compressing and warehousing facilities. Last the large number of regular steamship lines insure movement of the cotton to Europe, the Orient and to manufacturing sections on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts of the United States.

Canadian Rail Net is Highest Since Merger
MONTREAL, Aug. 27. (AP)—An increase of $11,899,711.25 or 30.44 per cent in net earnings for the first seven months of 1926 as compared with the same period last year, is shown in the financial statement of the Canadian National Railways for the period January to July 31, 1926, issued today.

Business of Lumber Mills on High Plane
NEW YORK, Aug. 27. (AP)—Gratifying increases in production, shipments and new business of softwood and hardwood mills of the country in the week ended August 21, is reported by the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association in its comparison with the week of 1925. Unfilled orders of 281 Southern Pine and 282 Western Pine mills declined to 682,829,778 feet, from 678,575,120 feet the week before.

OWNERSHIP OF SANTA FE STOCK TOLD

Women Outnumber Men by 4144 as Individual Shareholders

Women are taking a more important place in the investment field, judging from a statement issued yesterday by W. B. Surry, president of the Santa Fe Railroad, which shows that there are more women than men holding shares of Santa Fe stock. The statement also shows that the largest individual shareholder is a woman. Of the individuals owning Santa Fe stock, 23,938 are men owning a total of 1,375,934 shares, and 30,083 are women holding 958,357 shares.

The Santa Fe has outstanding 3,565,823 shares of capital stock of a par value of $100 and of an aggregate par value of $356,582,300, owned by 62,933 shareholders, of which 1,341,728 shares are preferred and 2,224,095 are common stock. ## France Scorns Outside Advice on Finances

PARIS, Aug. 27. (AP)—Publication abroad of stories that foreign bankers are meeting here or there in France or elsewhere with the purpose of advising the French government most what it ought to do about the franc has caused evident annoyance to the Poincare Cabinet.

The Associated Press today was authorized to say that the French government is unaware of any such meeting, that it is competent to arrange its own financial matters without outside interference, and that it is not in the least disposed to accept any such advice.

The French government, it was said, is wholly occupied at present with the task of restoring the franc to its former position, and it is not in the least disposed to accept any such advice.

BUSINESS PHILOSOPHY

BY WILLIAM FEATHER

ONE trouble with the constant repetition of the phrase "capital and labor" is that a lot of people get the idea that capital is some mysterious force which the ordinary man can never hope to use or own.

As a matter of fact the division between capital and labor is mostly an imaginary one. Professors of political economy have agreed on definitions of the two words for their own convenience in carrying on economic discussions.

The Rental Grab-Bag

It's entirely a matter of chance with some people, this renting a place to live. Los Angeles covers a lot of ground; vacancies are scattered in all directions—which way should they turn?—where should they look?

The "Rental" columns of the Los Angeles Times list every morning the desirable homes, apartments and bays for rent. They are grouped by districts so you can easily find your way, and arranged according to number of rooms.

Instead of reaching into a rental grab-bag and taking what comes up, the renter who consults The Times' incomparable rental service has all the advantages of careful and convenient SELECTION!
